ADVANCING HEALTH EDUCATION & RESEARCH

2013 Scientific Assembly: Addressing Violence and Abuse in the Changing Healthcare Environment

Crowne Plaza & Suites | April 19–20, 2013 | Minneapolis, MN
Pre-Conferences April 18th

The purpose of the conference is to disseminate the most current research findings on the adverse health effects of violence and abuse across the lifespan, and provide evidence-based information on best practices to healthcare providers who can integrate and apply this knowledge in caring for their patients. The conference will focus on the integration and advancement of this knowledge in the context of the changing health care environment.

The multi-disciplinary conference audience will include behavioral health, counseling, dentistry, family therapy, medicine, nursing, nutritionists, pharmacy, physical and occupational therapy, psychology, public health, and social work. Participants will include advocates, administrators, clinicians, educators, researchers, and other professionals who work in health care and educational settings.

Deeper Understanding Better Care

ABOUT AVA

The Academy on Violence and Abuse (AVA) exists to advance health education and research on the prevention, recognition, treatment and health effects of violence and abuse.

By expanding health education and research, the AVA will integrate knowledge about violence and abuse into the training of all health professionals, promote the health of all people, protect the most vulnerable, and advance health care policies that promote safe families, workplaces and communities. The AVA will be an academic leader addressing health education and research issues related to violence and abuse, focusing on an end goal to ultimately minimize the health effects of violence and abuse.

AGENDA

Thursday, April 18, 2013 • PRE-CONFERENCES

MORNING

A-1 Developing Research on Violence: Faculty Development Course

8:30 AM–12:00 PM

AVA is interested in helping to promote the careers of promising new champions of this work. This workshop is designed to develop a scholarly focus around violence and abuse by providing information to faculty new to this area of science. The pre-conference will address issues specific to abuse research including: types of scholarly research, levels of evidence, navigating the IRB process, funding and academic productivity. The workshop will serve as the beginning of a mentoring relationship with AVA's national experts in the field of violence and abuse research.

Faculty:

Candace Burton, RN, PhD
Kristine Campbell, MD, MSc
Kathy Franchek, MD
F. David Schneider, MD
Aggi Tiwari, RN, PhD, FAAN
Bea Yorker, JD, PhD, FAAN

A-2 Using the AVA ACE DVD to Educate Professionals, Policymakers and the Public

8:30 AM–12:00 PM

The Adverse Childhood Experiences Study (ACE Study) is the largest, replicated, and most influential study of the relationship between childhood adversity and later health status. It "changed the landscape" (Putnam, 2011) on how childhood adversity is viewed and studied. In early 2012, the Academy on Violence and Abuse released a new DVD that includes plenary addresses by Drs. Felitti, Anda and Putnam along with individual interviews of Felitti, Anda and David Williamson, PhD, the CDC obesity researcher who first introduced Felitti and Anda. This workshop will address what information the AVA ACE Study DVD contains and how to best use it for professional, policy maker and public education.

Robert Block, MD, FAAP
David L. Corwin, MD
Tasneem Ismailji, MD
Vince Felitti, MD

AFTERNOON

B-1 Methodological and Ethical Issues in Research on Violence and Abuse and its Adverse Health Impacts

1:00–4:30 PM

This workshop focuses on methodological and ethical issues specific to research studying the link between exposure to violence and abuse across the lifespan and poor health outcomes. Intended for both researchers and practitioners, faculty will present, lead discussions and offer potential solutions to violence and abuse research issues including study design, targeted sampling, intervention research, defining outcomes, mandatory reporting, vulnerable populations, socioeconomic status and cultural specific practices. Practice and policy implications of the strengths and limitations of the health effects of violence and abuse research will also be discussed. Participation in the morning Faculty Development Course is not a prerequisite to attend this workshop.

Faculty:

Megan Bair-Merritt, MD
Kristine Campbell, MD, MSc
Janice Humphreys, RN, NP, PhD, FAAN
Brooks Keeshin, MD
Aggi Tiwari, RN, PhD, FAAN

B-2 Evaluating Cases of Suspected Child Sexual Abuse: Current Controversies

1:00–4:30 PM

This workshop will present and discuss some of the current controversies regarding assessments for child sexual abuse. Drs. Geffner and Corwin have worked in this area for over 50 years combined and have written and edited many articles and chapters regarding these assessments. In 2012, The Journal of Child Sexual Abuse, for which Dr. Geffner serves as the Editor-in-Chief, devoted an entire issue to this topic and its publisher, Taylor Publications, has made that issue available online, free of charge. The workshop is designed to improve practice and stimulate further research in this challenging area of practice.
